NEWCASTLE, Monday Morning.

To the INDEPENDENT FREE BURGESSES of NEWCASTLE UPON TYNE.

GENTLEMEN,

GREAT Pains having been taken by the Enemies to Mr BOWES for these last three Days under the pretext of Letters received from London, and other anonymous Authorities, to make you believe that Mr BOWES will not appear as a Candidate to support your Independency, I think it my Duty to acquaint you that I have received from him the most positive Assurances of his Resolution to wait on you, for that Purpose, and that although his ill State of Health may have retarded his Journey, there is the strongest Reason hourly to expect him.

I am, Gentlemen,

with the greatest Respect,

your most obedient Servant.

GEO. GREIVE.
